

My Trip To Nepal

Author : Ryan

Date : December 13, 2014

A preview of my trip from the lens of my iPhone...

Speaking in chapel - Boys on the right!

Speaking in chapel - Girls on the left!

David Godwin and me wearing our thank you gift. (I'm sure wrong)

Lloyd Smith - wait until you see his pictures of the trip!

With Michael Kramer on the flight to Pokhara.

From the roof top of our guest house on a short one day trek.

The guest house owner. He was a soldier, we fought in the same war at the same time (on the same side) when I was in the Navy.

Taking a ride with a pastor in Pokhara to see his new building underway.

David Godwin speaking to a congregation.

At the airport in Kathmandu ready for a LONG trip.

We made it! Back in the USA at LAX Airport.

- Purpose of Trip: Construction planning for new Nepal Theological College women's dorm
- Traveling With: Lloyd Smith, David Godwin
- Dates: Nov 30 - Dec 11, 2014
- Distance Traveled: 24,019 Miles
- Airports: 7
- Layovers: One 10 hour layover at LAX, One 15 hour layover in China
- Reason for Construction:
 - Nepal is the fastest growing church in the world
 - Every year the Assemblies of God Nepal plants 100 churches
 - Every year approximately 40 students graduate from the Nepal Theological College
 - Room is needed for more students!

More about the project at: <http://projects.buildersintl.org/projects/project/138>