

Come with Ryan and Laci to South Africa: October 2013

Author : Ryan

Date : January 26, 2013

Come help us work on the campus of Global School of Theology North West in Rustenburg, South Africa! We'll be securing the exact dates soon for some time the month of October. Trip cost will be approx. $2600.

In a country where there are sweeping education reformations, we are partnering with the IAG (International Assemblies of God) to upgrade their facilities to meet new campus accreditation standards.

Not to mention, we'll be going on a day safari to Kwa Mmatau Wildlife Reserve!

Why we build? Here is the story of Cornelius and Jacobeth Sebowe...

Pastors Cornelius and Jacobeth Sebowe are graduates of GST-NW and have pioneered a church plant in Phokeng in the North West Province. After a four-week tent crusade in 2004, they felt God calling them to build a church in the village for the new converts. Soon opposition arose from those in the village who worshiped ancestors and idols. They burned down the church and brought charges against the Sebowes to their village council. After many trials, the Sebowes were brought before the Royal Bafokeng family to answer about their God. They were able to witness about God's call on their lives and how He was greater than any other. The king granted them the ground for the church and has been supportive ever since. God's favor is truly working in Cornerstone Worship Center. They have seen God do many miracles in the village because of God's power and the training they received at the Bible school.
