We continually thank God for you! Without your generous financial and prayer support, we simply would not be able to serve in our calling...You have been a part of build places where people find hope!

Summer Was a Flash!

Looking back at this summer, we can't believe it is now already behind us...

- May: Ryan built a home in Mexico with QMission, an organization that mobilizes military veterans on mission trips.
- June: Ryan traveled to Belgium for the groundbreaking of Continental Theological Seminary \(CTS\), the next big endeavor of Builders International. Ryan and Laci taught a class at AGWM's annual Missionary Training for new missionaries, while the kids got to gather with other missionary kids from around the world!
- July/August: Team Moore worked General Council in Orlando, hosting the Builders International exhibit, as well as hosting a dinner for CTS. The next week, we were honored and excited to be among the largest missionary gathering in history, as fellow AG missionaries from all over the world converged in Orlando for Together 2019...a total of 2,100 missionaries and 260 missionary kids!

Laci's volume of writing continues to grow! Get a taste of just some of her work at:

They Are Back At It Again...Back to School, that is!

We could not be more proud of Lynzi and Asher.

Asher

Asher is 11 and just started 6th grade at middle school. Last week, he moved up to youth group at church! This season will be a busy one for him, as he made the middle school soccer team, and will be playing the saxophone in the school band! His favorite thing is still riding the trails on his mountain bike.

Lynzi

Lynzi is now 14 and officially in high school, as she begins 9th grade. This school year starts off with a new adventure...online high school! This decision came with much thought on her part. One of the main reasons is her desire to have the opportunity to travel with Dad (and Mom) more for missions work. Online schooling gives her flexibility in her schedule to do so.

Thank you for your prayers and financial support of Team Moore as we serve with Builders International! - Ryan
